AB - Antique Brass

Pages 8, 27, 98-109, 136-155

Antique Brass has rich brown hues and golden undertones that create a warm, inviting appeal. This finish closely resembles the look of natural brass and is undeniably Victorian, with hints of Colonial Era style occasionally peeking through. The high-gloss finish gives it a touch of the modern world. For accompanying products, we recommend using either Antique Brass, Matt Antique Brass or Polished Brass.

AC - Antique Cooper

Pages 8, 30, 98-109, 136-155, 160

Antique Copper is an elegant and sophisticated finish with warm copper tones that break through the darker, aged exterior. It is a traditionally inspired finish that finds its style rooted in the Victorian Era, but also heavily in the Arts & Crafts movement. Antique Copper works exceptionally well with ornate, handmade, craftsmen-style furnishings. For accompanying products, we recommend using either Antique Copper or Matt Black.

BNPC - Black Nickel / Polished Chrome

Titanium looks notably stunning on complementary colour doors but also on contrasting colours, like white painted doors or black ash.

Matt Gun Metal accessories would compliment these levers.

All Atlantic Mortice knobs are unsprung so must be fitted with a heavy duty double sprung tubular latch. Ensure latch chosen provides sufficient back set to distance the knob from the door frame. On fire door frames we recommend 4" heavy duty latches with Mortice knobs and 3" on a standard frame.

Why magnetic?

Easy to fit - it takes less time & hassle taken to fit these products!

Seamlessly quiet closing - No noisy door closing! Almost silent due to being magnetic!

Clean, Sophisticated & Elegant - The look of a closed door without a striker plate visible speaks volumes creating a streamline finish!

Flush Finish - There is no chance of catching clothes or arms on protruding latch tongues or striker plates - preventing children from hurting themselves too!

Reliability - We have only heard good words about our mag-latches!

Why intumescent?

All ironmongery installed on a fire door must be fitted without compromising the integrity of the complete fire door assembly. This is particularly important when ironmongery is rebated into the doorset such as hinges, locks and latches. To ensure our CE Certifire latches, dead bolts, locks and hinges are compliant, intumescent kits or pads must be fitted. These kits are flexible and pre-made with cut out lines that can be tailored to the item they are being fitted with. Check the fire rating of the door and ensure you fit the appropriate intumescent protection.

A modern minimalist home

This modern minimalist home has a clean palette throughout creating a perfect canvas for hardware in the Urban Graphite finish. Warm tones of pale stone grey in the kitchen cabinetry and plush carpets creates a harmonious blend with the relief in the Urban Graphite finish. This home features Forme Naxos on square rose in Urban Graphite.

The family home

For a perfectly practical and versatile option, this family home is furnished with Status Texas on round rose in Polished Chrome. The durable nature of this lever creates an ideal option for a busy and lively setting. Polished Chrome is a classic that will never date and therefore seamlessly suits any style of decor.

Beech Cottage

Beech Cottage is situated just outside the Yorkshire market town of Knaresborough. The 1930's cottage has been restored to embrace its heritage and yet combine a contemporary feel. Traditional Old English Ripon was chosen throughout the home. Satin Nickel adds the contemporary blend to this ironmongery.

A home with a traditional twist

Warwick Lever on backplate in Matt Gun Metal creates a splendid blend between traditional and contemporary. Warwick is an all time classic, which creates an authentic feel within any interior. Warwick compliments both period and contemporary surroundings when styled in Matt Gun Metal.

Modern and Flush Apartment

The Forme Olympia lever was fitted throughout this stylish new build with magnetic locks, creating a flush and modern aesthetic, and a seamless closing action. Satin Chrome creates a perfect finishing touch for a door with a wood grain.

A Refined Touch of Elegance

This family home was fitted with Old English Harrogate Moritce Knobs in Antique Copper. Traditional elements & character have been retained throughout the 1930's property, whilst a contemporary twist has been added. Antique Copper is perfect for creating this blend.

the finish[®] matters

Choosing your Ironmongery

We believe the finish matters, and this factor makes the biggest difference to the final atmosphere created by the ironmongery within an interior. Therefore we recommend, you choose the finish of your ironmongery before going on to consider the style you require and then concluding with the functionality aspects.

Why not browse the finish inspiration on pages 8 to 11 to help you make a decision? Looking at real homes often helps - take a look at the case study pages 154 to 159. Within each finish range there are multiple options of modern, flush, minimal, contemporary and traditional ironmongery styles - something for every required taste. Each period of house, from Victorian and Georgian to new build and contemporary homes, has a very particular feel to the building and environment. When deciding to replace door furniture it is important to consider this factor. Certain finishes will also lend themselves more than others to different periods of homes, for example Satin Brass within a minimal, classy and modern home, and Antique Brass in a characterful traditional home.

Perhaps one of the most basic and functional items to choose are your hinges, however, these still matter, and especially the finish of these! The type of hinges you choose will depend upon a number of factors...

- Style of the door
- The door frame
- The weight of the door

Typically, panelled doors would be fitted with butt hinges. A butt hinge is designed to be cut into the frame and the door so that is largely hidden from view when the door is closed. Thought should be given to the weight of the door in question as heavier doors may require additional hinges or a larger size hinge.

Fire doors will require a fire tested hinge. There are several finish focused options of pages 136-137. The size and number of hinges is determined by the size of the door. For a common domestic application door we would recommend 3no. X 3" hinges. If you have a fire door you should use 3no. X 4" Hinges. You should also use 4" hinges if your existing doors have 4" hinges to keep the same character within the door set.

You will need to consider the purpose of the door and whether it needs a locking mechanism. Generally, but not always, internal doors are not locked so a standard latch(non-locking) or latch and turn and release (commonly used on bathroom doors) would be sufficient. A standard latch is simple to use and only requires the door handle to be pushed down for the door to open. The size of the latch required is determined by how far into the door you would like the door handle to sit. If an internal door does need a locking facility, a standard 3 lever lock would be an option to consider. If a fire door is used, fire tested latches and locks must be fitted with intumescent pads as the fire test specifies.

Consideration will need to be given to whether a door knob or lever handle is preferred for opening and closing the door. Levers are available in square or round rose or on backplate. Square rose is a very popular option in modern style interiors, while round rose is a contemporary or classic alternative. Levers on backplate are often regarded as a more traditional option.

Maintenance and Care Guide

Our unique and bespoke finishes have been carefully matured and developed over many years. We are proud to offer a complete range of hand-applied, quality, finish-focused products which provide customers with the option to create a full matching door set in a huge range of trending colours.

We do not recommend using our products externally, unless they are brass based. Solid Brass based products can be used externally, Zamak based products cannot. Zamak products would deteriorate in a matter of weeks or months due to extreme temperature changes, UV exposure after rain & frost and chemical & salt composition in the air causing the finish to flake off. By contrast, Solid Brass-based door handles and knobs will last for many years under normal external circumstances.

We do not recommend using our products externally in coastal areas due to the high levels of atmospheric salt, as this will rust or tarnish most finishes. Items of ironmongery can be coated in a PVD finish which improves hardness, wear resistance and oxidation resistance. Please enquire for further details regarding PVD coating.

In the unusual event of products failing mechanically, we will replace it free of charge, providing you can supply us with the faulty product and a receipt to show proof of purchase. If the items are not fitting in accordance with the fitting instructions, in a correct application, this may not apply.

All our products have a bespoke applied finish, and we recommend regular cleaning with a soft cloth. If necessary, you may moisten the cloth, with water. If this is not effective in removing accumulated deposit, try using a PH neutral soap on a soft cloth, then remove soap immediately after application, with the help of a clean, moist, soft cloth. Any form of chemical cleaner could permanently damage the finish.

Under no circumstance should you use an abrasive/hard tool, chemical, acidic or abrasive substance to clean our products. This will break down the applied finish. The finish may chip or scratch if subjected to impact from sharp items such as keys and jewellery; rings in particular. Atlantic UK retain the right to send items away for chemical testing to analyse if the product has come into contact with any abrasive or chemical substance before issuing replacements.

Please be aware that environments where there are high concentration of chemicals in the air, for example from use of low quality paint or corrosive agents, corrosion and damage may occur to the surface of the hardware. Our products should therefore not be fitted in such environments, until the high concentration of chemicals in the air have subsided. Please also ensure any newly plastered or painted rooms are fully cured before fitting your ironmongery, as moisture may tarnish or rust the finish. When painting, staining or plastering we recommend that all ironmongery is removed before proceeding and that rooms are left to fully cure before your ironmongery is fitted.

We recommend periodically oiling any moving parts on all products to ensure they perform to their full capacity, especially when fitting externally. We would also strongly advise that this is carried out upon initial installation. Wiping over the surface of your products from time to time with a cloth will also remove any harmful deposits that build up on the surfaces and will aid protection from environmental factors.

Fitting Advice

The fixing kits supplied with our products are bespoke and carefully crafted specifically for their coordinating product. We would always recommend that a pilot hole is drilled, especially into hard woods, for all our fixings. Ideally it is suggested that screws are rubbed with candle-wax before fitting to ease the application. Please take the utmost care when fitting our screws to preserve the finish. We recommend that along with drilling a pilot hole, a well-fitting screwdriver should be used. Please avoid fixing by way of an impact driver or drill operated screwdriver, due to the hand-made nature of the fixings. Extra screws can be purchased, to replace lost or damaged screws. Please enquire for further details.

Our Manufacturing Processes

Here at Atlantic, taking care of people and their environments is regarded very seriously. At every stage of our manufacturing process, being socially aware and protecting the environment is critical.

The Ecotech manufacturing process used to finish our Forme Italian products, is an innovative method using nanotechnology. It is a coating that takes place in a vacuum environment. This process is characterised by a dry, cold and without chemical finishing process. This pollution free manufacturing technology produces negligible waste, and minimal energy is used to produce a finish that is strong, durable and environmentally friendly.

In contrast, electroplating or galvanization involves toxic chemicals. These procedures are harmful to the environment and potentially harmful to personnel. The production costs and health inspections required, the huge use of water and electricity to maintain a standard production plant are almost 10 times that of Ecotech.
